

How can the community influence and support wellness in schools, particularly around mental health?

How can county and INOVA leaders engage the community in new ways that would illuminate gaps and needs?

How can we support and educate parents and youth about mental health programs?

What Can WE Do to Bridge Gaps Between Existing and Missing Mental Health Resources in Fairfax County?

COMMUNITY MEETING

Thursday, May 30, 2019

6:30 to 8:30 PM

Community Services Board (CSB) ANNANDALE, VA LOCATION
7611 Little River Turnpike, Heritage Building, East Wing,
1st floor conference rooms, E-122A and E121B

Connect with others, learn about adolescent mental health resources, identify resources that are needed and missing, and take the first steps to bridge those gaps.

A moderated panel of experts in the local mental health field will share their community actions and services regarding adolescent mental health.

- Practical Playbook chapter: “Addressing Behavioral Health with a Multi-sector Approach: Why we started the Community of Solutions”.
- Virginia Mental Health Access Program (VMAP): a statewide effort to guide access to mental health and improve mental health care in primary care.
- George Mason University: the evolution of the community Systems of Care approach, and GMU’s work with schools and its community services.
- INOVA’s Kellar Center: adolescent services and facilities, the expansion of adolescent psychiatric beds at INOVA, and behavioral health issues in the INOVA Community Health Needs Assessment.
- Fairfax County Government: Parent Navigator and Healthy Minds
